

FM Golf Alliance

THE GOLF TOURNAMENT FOR GOLFERS

Organised and run by Nicholas Eastham and PGA Professional Andrew Butler of Prime Golf, the FM Golf Alliance is a series of monthly golf tournaments on the Costa del Sol supported by well known realty group FM Consulting.

Designed to attract a slightly higher standard of play the tournaments are open to all residents and visitors, and are played as a series of pairs better ball stroke play events with prizes awarded for the leading pairs and individual performances.

Aside from the pairs format, what sets these tournaments apart from others in the area is the support they receive from local PGA Professionals, who compete in both pro-am and individual formats.

As well as per event prizes there is an order of merit table which covers the whole series, rewarding the most consistent players. The current 2008-9 season, which began in April, has already visited some of the finest courses in the area including Almenara, Atalaya Old Course, Estepona and Santana.

Andrew welcomes any new player who would like to participate in future events. Maximum handicap is 18, and single players are paired accordingly per event.
